Advanced Programme in Project Management

Presented by the Graduate School of Technology Management, University of Pretoria

BLENDING LEARNING | 5 ECSA CPD Points

The Advanced Programme in Project Management takes you beyond the basic principles of project management and focuses on mastering advanced concepts with the integration of modern technologies and management approaches to the lifecycle of projects. The strategic aspects of projects are addressed and balanced with practical application through extensive use of software techniques and the unique programme material will undeniably elevate your approach above that of general project management.

The new format of partly online, supplemented with reduced number of contact days provides the opportunity for learners to optimise time and cost.
